Peter Michel, Former CEO of Brinks Home Security joins SightLogix' Advisory Board

Princeton, NJ – January 3, 2007 – Peter Michel, a renowned security industry leader, widely respected for his accomplishments while CEO of Brinks Home Security, agreed to join the SightLogix Advisory Board. Mr. Michel has an unparalleled track record of growing security companies. He is credited with taking Brinks Home Security from a $26M minority player, to establishing it as a $258 million industry leader, operating in more than 100 markets and 42 states. Mr. Michel will bring the same visionary thinking and expertise in market strategy and management to SightLogix.

SightLogix is an innovative provider of reliable outdoor intelligent surveillance solutions. The company has created the first and only complete solution architecture that works effectively for outdoor perimeters and buffer zones. SightLogix removes the nagging issues of false alarms, integration complexity and high costs that have been plaguing the industry.

Perimeter protection and buffer zone security is needed for thousands of critical infrastructures worldwide (Fortune-500 campuses, Borders, Transportation, Energy, Chemical, Food/Water Supply) that require a huge number of cameras, display systems, video storage, networking, and support services, resulting in a multi-billion dollar market opportunity.

“I’m very excited about the ground-breaking solutions SightLogix has to offer,” said Peter Michel. “SightLogix is the first to have created a complete solution for reliable outdoor video surveillance. This company is ideally suited to lead the outdoor intelligent video market and I’m eager to support them in their efforts,” he added.

“Peter Michel’s record of managing and growing companies within the security industry is a tremendous asset and we’re delighted to welcome him to our advisory board,” said John Romanowich, president and CEO of SightLogix. “Mr. Michel’s insight will be extremely valuable expanding the roll out of SightLogix’ breakthrough outdoor intelligent video solution for the security market ”.

Prior to Brinks, Mr. Michel was the CEO of Penn Central Technical Security and held several key strategic positions at American Standard and Gulf Oil. Most recently, Mr. Michel held the position of chairman of the Homeland Security Advisory Council of the Security Industry Association. His public sector experience includes serving the President of the United States as a member of the White House staff, as well as serving in the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development. During the Vietnam era, Peter served as a U.S. Navy Surface Officer aboard the aircraft carrier Coral Sea and the guided missile destroyer Conyngham, where he attained the rank of Lieutenant. Peter earned his B.S. in Political Science from Colgate University in Hamilton, New York and his Masters in Public Administration from the University of Virginia in Charlottesville. He has also completed the Stanford Business School's Executive Program in Strategy and Organization.

About SightLogix

SightLogix has created a breakthrough enterprise security system that enables the outdoor digital surveillance market. SightLogix' industry leading solution addresses the risk management and operational efficiency needs of the ubiquitous and global outdoor surveillance market. Key to SightLogix' effectiveness and economics is a scalable enterprise architecture built upon leading digital imaging technology fully integrated within a high powered video processing platform. This breakthrough design eliminates costly communication and external processing infrastructure and wasted manpower tracking down false alarms, while providing high situational awareness through geo-registered targeting. SightLogix' industry leading solution is built around multiple patents and a team of video and physical security experts.
